BARBOURVILLE, KENTUCKY, FRIDAY, JANUARY 7, 1906

Sixth Year.

New Officer.

Occupying the Various Positions on the Public Square.

All the New Officers Sworn in and Begun Their Work Last Monday.

The court house has experienced an entire change this week. Every old officer from judge on down have vacated the building and their places are now occupied by new men.

Judge Stamper took up the reins of the county on Monday morning as County Judge, and seems to be very much at home already. He will possibly retain Judge Bradford as the Clerk of Quarterly Court for the present, at least, until he becomes more familiar with the duties of his office.

Read P. Black succeeded C. C. Smith as Clerk of the Knox County Court and took charge of his office also on Monday morning. He has retained with him in the office Judge J. H. Davis, who has been in the office for a number of years, and is perfectly familiar with every detail of the office. Mr. Black will soon familiarize himself with the duties of his office, however, as he is taking hold in earnest.

In the Circuit Court, Clerk's office every one was kept busy for the first day or so. Mr. McDonald has given the office an entire overhauling and has papered and fixed up in the latest style. He is trying to get familiar with the records of the office which is quite an undertaking.

The School Superintendent, Mr. W. W. Evans, has made a complete change in his office, moving all the furniture and cases around and given the office a general overhauling. He has now gotten everything in perfect condition and has arranged his files so that he can secure a paper for any District in the county instantly, without a through a bulk of other papers. He seems very much at home in his new quarters.

S. H. Jones, the new Sheriff in Richmond on Monday consequently was one day getting into his office. He is getting straightened up however, and will be ready for any duty that may come to his office. He will soon begin to feel at home in the court house.

W. H. Davis, the new Jailor has moved to town and is occupying the jail residence where he can be ready at any and all times to turn the jail keys when it is necessary. He has not many boarders at the present time, but he will receive all who come to take lodging with him. He has a nice new jail which has just recently been completed, and he says he intends to keep it clean and in order.

W. G. McDonald, the newly elected Assessor, came in Monday and executed bond and qualified as Assessor of Knox County. He has no office in the court house but will take the assessment list the next time.

F. M. Rees, the Surveyor elect, was also in town on Monday and qualified for the duties of his office. He will make all the surveys for the county for the next four years and give just as much concern. He has no yet taken possession of the office arranged for the Commission and Surveyor but will pass do so in the near future.

The new officers all seem interested in the work that lies before them and the indication is that we have as fine a set of officers as Knox county has ever elected in its history.

We wish all of them success and trust that they may make records for themselves that will stand as monuments long after they have retired from the stage of action.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Of Judge and Mrs. John H. Davis Celebrated by Members of B. Y. P. U.

The members of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union gave a very pleasant evening to Judge and Mrs. John H. Davis at the Institute, Monday Jan. 3rd, on the occasion of their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

There were some fifty or more present, all reporting a good time.

At the appointed time (8 o'clock) the piano struck up a lively march and all were soon on their way to the room which was arranged for the refreshments. The aged couple was then ushered in amid a storm of applause and seated in the center of the room under a golden bell bearing the date of their wedding and the date of the reception.

The room was arranged as a dining room and very appropriately decorated. Gold and scarlet predominating. It was well lighted with candles shaded with gold crepe, which gave a very pleasing effect in the light.

The refreshments were served in several selections were rendered on the piano by Miss Mollie Smith. After dinner the toasts were rendered by Prof. Creech and Mr. Evans.

Prof. Creech responded to the toast "Golden wedding" said, "Let us link to the health of the blushing young woman and dashing young man of fifty years ago. Let us link to the father and mother of the age and the grand father and mother of the present, who three score years and ten, are young."

Mr. Evans in responding to the toast "Golden wedding" said, "Let us link to the health of the blushing young woman and dashing young man of fifty years ago. Let us link to the father and mother of the age and the grand father and mother of the present, who three score years and ten, are young."

After chatting, playing and joking for some time they all bid each other good night and retired feeling that everybody had spent a most enjoyable evening.

W. M. MITCHELL

The above is a good likeness of the newly elected City Clerk, Mr. Mitchell has for the past year been a member of the City Council and made a faithful and earnest official. So favorable were the new Council toward him that he was unanimously elected Clerk of the Council. He represents the Crescent Milling Co. of Cynthiana, in Southeastern Kentucky.

Hearts go with them. They will canker and rust, but our love will never. They will lose their luster, but your lives will ever shine as beacon lights, an encouragement to all young people who come within the benign institutions which you have done so much to establish."

Miss Clara Lambdin recited a selection from Longfellow's poems. Then the little party repaired to the auditorium that the young people might amuse themselves with games and jokes.

A list of conundrums were handed to each, and all were soon busy "cracking nuts." A prize was awarded to the person who should solve correctly the greatest number of the conundrums. Miss Mable Mathews was awarded the prize, a copy of Harold Bell Wright's new book—"The Calling of Dan Matthews."

After chatting, playing and joking for some time they all bid each other good night and retired feeling that everybody had spent a most enjoyable evening.

RESOLUTIONS.

Be it resolved by the Board of City Council and Mayor of the City of Barbourville, Ky. in public session that they feel they would be derelict on their duty and untrue to themselves if they failed to express in this public manner and in the strongest possible language their sincere appreciation of the Civic League of Barbourville during their entire term of office in all matters pertaining to the betterment and advancement of our entire community. We have prided by their wise counsel and our city has been greatly advanced and beautified by their untiring energy and unselfish co-operation that our Court house square has been beautified and planted with beautiful flowers, our public buildings cleaned and kept in a sanitary condition, papers, rubbish and unsightly buildings have been removed from our streets and public places. We will do our best to continue the energy of these noble women that this great change has been brought about. Notwithstanding the many duties imposed by the wives, mothers and daughters of our best citizens, they are in society and reigning in their homes of plenty, they have gone out and worked untiringly and efficiently for the betterment of our community and their handiwork is plain to be seen in every movement that has helped to build up our proud little city and advance the interest of her citizens. We feel that too much cannot be said in the praise of this organization and its individual members, and we sincerely trust the members of the League will give to the new Mayor and City Council the same hearty co-operation they have given us.

R. M. COLE, MAYOR,
W. W. TINSLEY, CLERK.

Be it resolved by the members of the City Council of the City of Barbourville, Ky., that we hereby express our sincere regrets that the office of our present Mayor, John K. W. Cole, will expire with this meeting, that it is our wish and desire to express in this public manner our appreciation of his high and distinguished ability in all things pertaining to his official acts during his entire term of office. By his fairness and justice in all matters we have not only learned to respect his judgment and admire his ability, but have learned to love him. We further hereby attest his unselfishness and untiring energy in all matters pertaining to the general improvement and upbuilding of our town and community, and we sincerely trust his distinguished successors will carry forward to completion all the good things he has started and imitate his noble character.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be given to Mayor Cole and that same be spread at large on the minute books of this meeting.

HOSPITAL

Question Should Be Taken Up Now

With New Administration and Pushed to Completion.

We have for the past year or so urged upon our people the importance of establishing a hospital in our city, and now that we have built and paid for our court house and jail during the administration of Judge Sampson without burdening the tax payers.

Now we believe that the present administration will take up the question of establishing a public hospital, and we have the assurance from our physicians that they will all lend a helping hand in the movement, so that the prospects look good now to secure a hospital for Barbourville and Knox county before the end of the first year of the new administration.

Let everybody talk for the hospital and work for the hospital and electioneer with the Fiscal Court for the hospital, and when they learn that the people really want it they will join in readily and appropriate a sufficient sum to purchase same. Now for a strong pull and a pull all together and we will soon have the hospital that we have needed for so long.

She Needed Them. "I wish, John," she said regretfully, "I had had sense enough not to destroy all the letters you wrote me during the year and a half of your courtship."

He smiled in a gratified way. "I knew you would regret that some time," he said.

"Indeed I do," she replied, "I need a little change the worst sort of way, and the man who buys rags and old paper was here today. How wasteful we are in our youth."

He looked at her reproachfully, and almost involuntarily his hand sought his pocketbook. It is seldom, indeed, that a resourceful woman has to make such request for money.—Chicago

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS
THE NECESSARY MAGAZINE

first, because it is a necessity—that is the rule in magazine buying of America's intellectual aristocracy. It is indispensable to the busy business man, who must keep abreast of the times, because it gives him the real news of the day in concise, readable form; it is invaluable to the thinking man, who demands only the truth and then draws his own conclusions, because it gives him just plain, straight facts.

It is helpful to the whole family. In it you will find a monthly picture of men and affairs by Dr. Albert Shaw, in his comprehensive editorial, "Progress of the World;" a clever cartoon history of the month; book reviews; the gist of the best which has appeared in the other magazines and newspapers of the world; pithy character sketches; and interesting articles on the all-important topics of the day. Authoritative, non-partisan, timely and very much to the point, "It is a liberal education," is the way subscribers express it.
